WRITTEN BY SILVIE SANŽA, MARKÉTA ŠPAČKOVÁ

Do you know how polar bears are able to be almost invisible in the snow despite being such giants? Why do tigers have a striped coat? And what do hedgehog babies look alike when they're born? Nature gave animals homes and coats of various colours, shapes, sizes and patterns, thereby enabling them to hide from enemies or crawl through the jungle, snow or garden undetected. And when their fur or their own home cannot keep them warm, they move into square boxes or houses with a lovely triangular shield. That's a great place to live, isn't it? Try to find all of the animals and shapes which are hidden in the books!.

ILLUSTRATED BY JAKUB CENKL
WRITTEN BY ŠTĚPÁNKA SEKANINOVÁ

We all get scared sometimes. Some of us often and a lot – at the doctor’s, on the river, when there’s a storm ... This is when fear takes the upper hand, when it takes us over, when we look at the world through fear’s eyes. With the book Not As Scary As It Looks ... children can pause and take a good look around for themselves. Is the doctor really a dark magician? Are those things in Grandma’s pond truly octopuses? By taking a closer look, young readers will see how things really are. Even if their fear isn’t banished straight away, they only have to open the book a second time for success to be guaranteed. Thanks to the beautiful illustrations, interactive sliding mechanism and changing pictures, even real scaredy-cats will soon overcome their fear.

with a bead

ILLUSTRATED BY ALEXANDRA HETMEROVÁ
WRITTEN BY OLDŘICH RŮŽIČKA

This unique, accessible, playful, and shoe-shaped board book will teach your children how to tie their shoelaces. Each title contains a simple motivational story and on the laced pages children will find a clear, illustrated manual how their shoelaces should be tied. Each title presents two ways how to do this so that everybody can choose whichever one they prefer the best. The lace which ties individual pages together can be pulled out, just like a real shoelace from your shoes – this allows children not only to learn how to lace up their shoes, but also to develop their motor skills while they're pressing the string through holes.

How Animals Care for Their Young: Parenting Styles in the Animal World

When humans have a baby, they devote all their love, care, and attention to them. The mum, dad, grandparents, and siblings all pitch in. But how does it work in the animal world? Are animals also diligent parents? Surprisingly, parenthood in the animal kingdom is very diverse. You can find parents who share their child-rearing duties equally and instill everything in their tots they'll need in life. In other families, the mum is in charge of the upbringing, and handles it with great skill. But you can also encounter parents who don't look after their young at all, and either leave them to others, or at the mercy of nature. Let's journey through the wilderness together and meet various animal families and their different approaches to child-rearing. As you'll see, the nature always comes with some very smart solutions.

Wanderers of the Animal World

ILLUSTRATED BY JANA KLOUČKOVÁ KUDRNOVÁ
WRITTEN BY MARKÉTA ŠPAČKOVÁ

The animal world is full of surprises... Certain known ones which impress and fascinate every day, and those still not yet discovered. Animals include certain record holders which can travel at an incredible speed and cover long kilometres in distance. The Arctic tern, for example, a small bird with a red beak and legs which flies all around the world each year! Reindeer, exotic butterflies or long-legged storks also migrate in order to escape from the winter. And then there are those who bravely face out the winter. How? Why don't you come with us and take a look! The book contains 3 large-format fold-out maps where you will find out about more than 80 animals!“

ATLASES FOR CHILDREN
Atlas of the Human Body

In six large foldout maps, children of six and over get to know the human body, including all its organs and functions. Large graphic illustrations show the most important parts of the human body, the circulatory system, the nervous system, the muscles, the internal organs and the skeleton. Each chapter is a supplemented with a booklet insert, in which readers will find basic information on illnesses affecting parts of the body and their treatment, healthy diet and healthy lifestyle, and how best to give first aid following accident or injury. The encyclopaedia shows child readers how the human body works, how best to care for it, and what needs to be done when a health problem occurs.

Any adventure-lover would jump at the chance to travel through time, in space, or across the world in a single day. And who wouldn't want to learn the secrets of how the world around us works? A nice idea, I hear you say, but quite impossible. Think again, dear reader! This series of children's atlases is a dream come true for adventurers, travellers and inquiring minds. They will criss-cross the world by sea, air and land, so as to cover the whole thing. They will return to the time when life on our planet began, touch the stars and the Milky Way, and visit the animal kingdom. They will even get a peek behind the scenes of how the weather works, and learn how rocks and minerals are formed. The machine that carries the inquisitive reader through time and space is equipped with full-colour illustrations, plans, maps and booklets and powered by masses of fascinating information. We're ready to leave, so climb aboard, there's no time to lose ...

In the building where you live, you use devices that are powered by electricity. You sit at your PC, playing your favourite computer game or browsing the internet. Your parents' car, bought with money earned in their jobs, stands in the garage. These are things you encounter every day, and probably you take them for granted. But do you know where they came from? Do you know how they were made and how many people were involved in their production? This book revealed this to you while doing its best to keep you entertained throughout.

Children are curious and they ask a lot of questions. That's something each parent knows. Why is the sky blue? Why do we sneeze? And where does the wind come from? Books from this series will give them answers to these questions. And even more! On sixteen pages, they can find 80 questions about various topics – about nature, weather, human body, space, geography and even about society, history or science. Not only do these books educate them, children will also have fun with various mechanisms that accompany both titles. Pull tabs, flip-flaps and rotating mechanisms will make learning fun.

Various creatures have found their homes here from small and at first sight almost invisible ants, to wood-destroying beetles and busy bees up to diverse kinds of climbing trees and rodents and finally even genuine giants, such as majestic wolves and bears. All this in an attractive 3D package modelled as an animal dwelling. The 'How Animals Live' series entertains and fascinates. As readers play, laugh at the amusing captions and study the many brilliant illustrations, they don't realize how much they are learning. The 'How Animals Live' series doesn't look like what it is, an encyclopaedia; it looks like a real beehive, a real anthill, real dens and burrows and of course real tree hollows. This encyclopaedia takes eager readers right to the heart of the matter. How could education possibly be any more fun?

SUITABLE FOR
age 6–8

ILLUSTRATED BY JAKUB CENKL
WRITTEN BY ŠTĚPÁNKA SEKANINOVÁ

Do you know how the human body (heart, lungs, kidneys, muscles, etc.) works, why we sometimes get ill, and what common illnesses are? Do you realize that you can hurt yourself by being careless and failing to pay attention, in the safety of the home as well as on the sports field? Wise physician Yoon Ti will show you the pitfalls that lie in wait for your body and teach you how to care for your health. In the company of Yoon Ti, you'll plunge deep into the human body, there to embark on a quest to heal sickness and repair injury. And you'll be no mere bystander - on this Mission you'll demonstrate how courageous, alert, resilient and open-minded you are. There are seven full-page illustrations, hazardous situations to be dealt with, plus booklets filled with information.

Can you imagine what your planet looks like from on high? A blue-and-white globe covered with polluted living space, poisoned water, oil slicks on the seas, plundered soil, burning primeval forest... The sight of all this destruction is so awful to extra-terrestrial Gwi Do that he has set out in his space ship with the intention of saving Planet Earth. You and he will set about healing the planet by putting right all the mischief humans have caused on it. This exciting, playful book of adventure guides you through the realm of the environment. The fate of Eaerth is in your hands - only you can determine whether the planet will survive or perish. Seven full-page, full-colour illustrations, plus booklets filled with information - this is what your 'rescue mission' comprises.

A trip to the recent and distant past with a pair of magic binoculars and Agnes the raccoon. Each title in the new Yesterday and Today series comprises seven themed chapters with full-page, full-colour illustrations and around sixty openable flaps marked with the 'binoculars' symbol. Child readers first see a scene from the present; then, on gently opening the flap, they discover interesting facts about the forerunners of objects and activities we take for granted today, such as cars, swimming pools, cameras and hockey matches. But the fun doesn't end there – readers can search for Agnes, who is hiding somewhere in each chapter.

Come with us to take a look at how clothing has evolved over the centuries. Discover when our ancestors invented the needle and the zip and, more important still, what they achieved with them! Find out when women began to wear make-up; learn that heels were worn in ancient Egypt, and that skirts used to be a normal part of a man's wardrobe. We describe, too, how work trousers called jeans became a hit. This guide to the world of fashion introduces fashion-conscious kids aged eight and over to the history of clothing, from ancient times to the present day. In twenty-four lavishly illustrated chapters, they get to peek into ladies', gentlemen's and children's wardrobes. In addition to the most important fashion items that have appeared over the centuries, readers will learn about major fashion designers and trendsetting icons.

Fighting and warriors have always been part of human life, from prehistory to the present, be it in the form of wars of all kinds or simple playground brawls. How has war been waged at various stages of history, and with what? What skills have warriors had to master, and which qualities apart from courage, gallantry and strength have been required of them? In the pages of this book, which really is armed to the teeth, you'll find out all you need to know about the lives of professional fighters, brawlers, soldiers, mercenaries and even 'ordinary' mammoth hunters.

TECHNICAL TALES

How to Build a Railway

SOLD: Russian, Ukrainian, Simplified Chinese, Vietnamese

Not all our favourite stories are about princesses, dragons and lovestruck princes. What if the heroes were a rat, a sparrow and a handy frog? And what if those three didn't set anyone free, get into any fights, or claim a reward of half a kingdom with a young princess thrown in? What if, quite simply, they built an aeroplane, a car, a house, a motorcycle and a railway? The amusing, highly popular story of the three friends of the 'Technical Tales' series proves that stories for children don't have to wear a crown. With these books, young readers will laugh, enjoy Martin Sodomka's delightful illustrations and learn all they need to know about how certain things are built.

The Story of the Aeroplane

SOLD: Simplified Chinese, Bulgarian, Russian, Ukrainian

Since time immemorial people have gazed at the skies and dreamed of seeing the world from high, as birds do. But for the daredevils who tried this very thing, we would perhaps still envy birds today. In the centuries that have passed since the first naïve experiments with birds' wings, people have progressed through gliders and craft that remain airborne for a few minutes only to ultramodern supersonic jet planes. It is a long story – and one with a happy ending.

Read the story of the automobile, from the invention of the wheel to the most modern racing machines. Seven thousand years ago humankind invented the potter's wheel; this seemingly unrelated invention marks the beginning of something that makes the heart of every boy and many a girl beat a little faster. The first carts, the steam engines that marked the beginning of motoring, the earliest ancestor of the car with the internal combustion engine, plus the modern cars driven by James Bond and Batman – all this awaits you in this lushly illustrated book with unconventional, retro-style graphics.

Imagine a world without people able to do skilled work with their hands. How on earth would we manage without their expertise? We'd lack so many things that we use every day – things we can't imagine being without, such as shoes, clothes, books, rucksacks, toys, tables, chairs and dishes. What if we had no one to paint our homes, bake our bread, produce our honey or make belts for our trousers? What a mess we'd be in! Quite simply, practitioners of trades and crafts are indispensable. When we need them, they help us – and that's the best thing of all. Only they know how to get things done!

Like every boy, Bernie longs for adventure; and as he's a particularly brave one, he sets off in search of it at the first opportunity. Under his own steam, with just Ben, his rather faint-hearted dog, for company. Together they travel through and map out the world's most interesting cities, sometimes even going back in time. So readers shouldn't be surprised when they join their new friends on board Christopher Columbus's ship, looking at the distant shores of America. Nor should they take fright at finding themselves under a burning sun in Ancient Egypt, struggling with the weight of a block of stone used in the building of the magnificent pyramids of the future. The 'Bernie and Ben' titles are no ordinary books – they are an experience in themselves! As they are filled with fascinating information, thrilling adventure and charming illustrations, readers will soon find themselves hooked.

We are forever surrounded by things we take so much for granted that we no longer see them. Yet there is another world around us that remains hidden from our view. Particles so small that we see them only when they are magnified several times. Waves beyond our perception, emitted by different instruments. The gravity that keeps our feet firmly on the ground. Above us a universe so vast that we just can't imagine it. And what if things exist that our other senses, too, are unable to perceive ... ?

These days we are able to buy exotic fruit and other food quite commonly, but often we don't know how and where it was grown. On a tree or a bush? In the ground or underwater? The aim of this book is to show children the amazing diversity of what nature gives us. This book is here not only to inform but to waken children's curiosity about new tastes, so that they have no fear of buying fruit they have never seen or even heard of before. The book also contains simple recipes for meals and drinks that children can try. There are even instructions on how some foods are grown.
