WEATHER

b4u publishing

Every day, just before the little bear goes out, he looks out of the window. What is the weather like? Each weather is different and it can change very quickly. We dress up and plan our day following the weather.

Come and look with the little bear at different types of weather and learn what happens during various weather conditions.

What can you see through the window?

Oh, such a sleet! It is windy and rainy outside.
Better hide yourself, little bear!

What should not the little bear forget when it is raining?

Oh, such a sleet! It is windy and rainy outside.
Better hide yourself, little bear!

It was by a hair's breadth! A fierce storm has come. It is better to hide at home when there is a storm.
Look, a lightning!

What should not the little bear forget when it is raining?

Every day, the little bear looks out of the window.
Do you do it at home the same way, do you look out for the weather? The weather, meaning what happens outside in the sky, affects a lot of things – you have to decide if you will wear gum boots or sandals, if you will go out with your friends or if you better stay at home wrapped up in a warm blanket. Yes, the weather makes all these things different. Pay attention – it has various faces and it can change very quickly.

Come and join the little bear and explore what you can experience with the weather and what may be handy for you.
