

How Flamingo Lost His Colour

Daniela Olejníková

But blue was not the right thing for Kamil. Can a flamingo look good in sky-blue or azure, what do you say? So Kamil had to keep looking. When endless walking tired him, he lay to rest to an old bench.

In the morning painters came and painted the bench with the sleeping Kamil nice green. Did they do a good job, what do you think? Are there any things or animals that look much better in green than flamingos?

"Why are you so green, did you eat something spoilt?"
Kamil's cute pink friends laughed, pointing their hooks at him.
Do I have to go wander the world again? The poor Flamingo snivelled, turned on his heel and...

... and he flew away, right to the feet of Wendy, a charming flamingo girl. He looked in her eyes and suddenly he blushed like a tomato. Are there other red things in the picture, apart from Kamil and the tomato? Can you find them?

Can you imagine, my dear children, what a flamingo might think when he wakes to find all of his beautiful colour gone? He takes fright first but then he sets out to find it. This is exactly what the main character of this book does. His name is Kamil the Flamingo and he flies and runs the world far and wide, less or more ready to try all possible colours that cross his path. How did it all end? You will see on your own. As you will be following the Kamil's story, he will help you learn colours around you. So, what are you waiting for? The world of Kamil the Flamingo and his lost colours in lovely illustrations by Daniela Olejnikova is waiting for you.
