

LAUGHTER

BABIES AND CHILDREN
USE CRYING TO COMMUNICATE ...

... AS DO GROWN-UPS.

CRYING IS TOTALLY NORMAL.

CRYING MAY GIVE US RELIEF...

... BECAUSE IT HELPS
CALM STRONG FEELING.

CRYING MAY ALSO BRING US
CLOSER TO OTHERS.

LAUGHTER STRENGTHENS

LAUGHTER HEALS AND IS GOOD FOR OUR BODY,

SO LET'S BE GLAD THAT IT'S INFECTIOUS!

In the course of our life we laugh and cry too many times to count. But what even are laughing and crying? Where do they come from, and what are they good for? When do we laugh, and what makes us cry? This book has the answers, and these answers may surprise you!
