SHOES, SHOES, SHOES!

What can be high, pointed, soft, elegant, sturdy and indestructible, and also flamboyant and weird? Shoes! Shoes are everywhere we look. No one makes do with one pair. They protect and adorn our feet. We choose which to wear depending on the weather, our mood, where we're going and what we want to do. A smith's shoes aren't those of a ballerina. Would you recognize the shoes of a motorcyclist or a karate expert? How many pairs are there in your wardrobe, and what do you do in each? Do you see some in this book?
