Sofia's Little & Big Adventures

Sofia in Space

Sofia is flying with her parents to the seaside. She fastens her seatbelt, and the airplane starts to rise up into the sky. The houses below get smaller and smaller, like little dollhouses. Sofia has one like that at home. The fluffy clouds look like a big soft blanket. Sofia would love to jump right into them. „Mommy, how high can people go?" she asks. „All the way to space," says Mommy. There are many things in space we don't know yet. Flying through galaxies is a great adventure.
Sofia wears a white spacesuit and a round helmet.
She sees colorful planets, a rocket, and shining stars. As she passes a comet, Sofia closes her eyes and makes a wish.

Sofia the Mermaid

Today Sofia is spending the day at the beach with her parents. There are lots of people on the sand. Some play with a ball, others build sandcastles. „Daddy, will you bury my legs in the sand?" asks Sofia. Daddy covers her legs, and suddenly Sofia becomes a mermaid! Her hair sparkles with shiny curls, and with a big tail instead of legs, she can swim with the fish. Her dog swims along too. The underwater world is full of colors. The fish are bright and every creature is special. The seahorse doesn't look like a horse, the starfish are shaped like stars, and the little octopuses dance with the waves.

Sofia the Racer

Sofia feels bored. She's sick. „Would you like to go for a ride?" asks Daddy, bringing a cardboard box, scissors, and a marker. He attaches a paper steering wheel, draws wheels and headlights. „Awesome!" shouts Sofia and climbs into her car. She grabs the wheel and suddenly she's on a big racetrack! Other racers zoom by — a bus, a digger, a motorcycle, and a scooter. To keep up, Sofia presses on! At the finish line, Mommy and Daddy are waiting. She didn't win the race, but the best prize was how much fun she had.

Sofia at the Amusement Park

Daddy takes Sofia shopping at a big mall. There's a shoe store, a flower shop, and a toy store too. „Daddy, this will be an adventure!" says Sofia as she climbs into a little train that rides in circles. The train whistles, lights flash, and off they go! Suddenly Sofia is on a roller coaster, seeing the whole amusement park. There are balloons, paper flowers, and booths with cotton candy and treats everywhere. The roller coaster goes up high and then down low, turning sharply left and right. Her hair flies in the wind. „Daddy, can I go again?" asks Sofia when the train stops. She wants to enjoy the adventure one more time.

Step into a magical world of imagination, where ordinary moments turn into amazing adventures! A shoebox becomes a race car. A walk in the woods becomes a jungle full of wild animals. Little Sofia, a curious girl with a big imagination, explores the world — and herself — with her parents, friends, and loyal dog. This beautifully illustrated book will delight young readers while gently growing their imagination, empathy, and curiosity. Does the world seem too ordinary? Join Sofia and discover that adventure is all around you. You just have to look with the eyes of a child.
