Once upon a time, three little pigs went out into the world to try their luck.
On and on they walked.
Little did they know that they were followed by a hungry wolf...

The first little pig stopped at a field of straw.
Wishing to go no further, he built himself a straw house.
And there he would stay.

A house of straw? Well, the wolf blew and blew... And look what happened!

Deep in the woods, the second little pig's legs were hurting. He would stay where he was, build a house out of sticks and farm there.

The wolf's tummy was rumbling. Hard as he tried to blow it in, the house stood firm. Should he climb down the chimney? Well, that's what he did – right into the kitchen!

The little pigs were cooking noodle soup in a big pot. Crash! Splash! The wolf landed in the pot. How he howled! He was no noodle! He pulled himself together and ran away, as far as his legs would carry him.

Now that they are old enough, three little pigs are off to see the world. But they have different ideas on where to go. They split up, each to build his own house. Our story would end here if it weren't for a wolf as hungry as he is mischievous. Turn the wheel to see what he is up to. Would you like to blow a house in? Then blow along with the wolf! Which house will withstand this mighty breath? Fitted with an interactive mechanism, this popular fairy tale is a source of fun, adventure and discovery. Turn the wheel and help the little pigs escape the big bad wolf!
